THE TAVERNS OF MY ANCESTORS.

The interest in Taverns and Inns seems to be renewed with us today as we drive about both country side and city streets. In a "History of the Town of Sunderland Massachusetts" a chapter devoted to "Taverns and Inns" was written with apologies but the author made a point which caused me to think of contrasting those Taverns of our early history with the type which is becoming all too familiar today. To quote from the chapter mentioned.

"The authorities of the Massachusetts Bay Colony began at a very early date to make provision for licensing of 'Inns or Ordinaries'. The colonial and provincial statutes are full of provisions for their government regulation. The very earliest laws prohibit the sale of wine and strong drink in these places as tending to riot and disorder. In 1692 the Provincial Legislatures made the following statement of uses and purposes for which houses of entertainment were established. 'And for as much as the ancient, true, principal use of Inns, Taverns, Ale-Houses, Victualling Houses and other Houses for common entertainment is for the receipt, relief and lodging of travelers and strangers and refreshment of persons upon lawful business or for the necessary supply of the wants of such poor persons as are not able by greater quantities to make their provision of victuals, and are not intended for entertainment and harboring of lewd or idle people to spend or consume their time or money there therefore etc.'

"As the settlement of the country went on, the population moved westward and northward and the need for these houses of entertainment grew rapidly. There were no lines of public conveyance and the stage did not reach the Connecticut Valley until the late seventies,.... There was a genuine demand for frequent rest and refreshment until every village had its own Tavern and the "Wayside Inn" between villages became a recognized and established institution. Opinions and conditions changed as time went on. The sale of wine and strong waters was permitted under stringent regulations enforced by severe penalties.

"To secure good order and good morals in the administration of these Inns it became quite the custom of wise and thoughtful magistrates to grant licenses only to men of character and substance. It so came to pass that the principal Innkeeper in a town was one of its most prominent citizens. The Village Inn became the newspaper, the produce exchange, the agricultural institute and the forum for discussion of local politics. It was the militia's headquarters and the scene of many public festivities."

In Sunderland the "Leonard Tavern" was in use as an Inn as early as 1731 and was sold to Noahdiah Leonard (my Revolutionary ancestor) in 1783. He had come from Springfield and married Jerusha Smith, daughter of Deacon Nathaniel Smith. He is said to have had a "store". "Stores" in that period were not only devoted to selling goods, but were places in private dwellings where crockery, chinaware and strong drinks were sold. A license was a necessity. He had one as early as 1769. He was rated as energetic and was a farmer as well as Innkeeper. He was also a Captain in the Militia and commanded his Company in the Lexington Alarm, later serving under Col. Woodbridge as Captain. He was afterward Lt. Col. in the Militia.

The Tavern was kept by his wife after he was killed, and later his oldest son Moses, obtained the license. The Inn was in the Leonard's possession fifty years and in active use as a Tavern for 102 years. The home of his wife's girlhood became "The Toby House". Polly Williams was the wife of Noahdiah Leonard (2nd). Her father was "Landlord Oliver Williams" as early as 1781.

So, adding an earlier Inn kept by the Chipmans in Barnstable, I believe I come from a family of Inn or Tavern Keepers who kept the type of "Inns" at which so many travelers nowadays refresh themselves through New England and other states, such as Botsford and Wayside Inns and reproductions like our own Dearborn Inn.

Katherine White Austin.

NOTES OF THE SOCIETY.

Mr. Charles H. Culver, well known Detroit attorney and member of the Old Timers Club addressed the December meeting of the Society. Born in Detroit Mr. Culver has played an active part in the growth of the city. With humor and vividness he painted a picture of "Detroit in the Eighties" which was thoroughly enjoyed. We hope that we may have him for a speaker sometime again.

The problem of obtaining birth certificates, especially when the birth has never been recorded was brought up and discussed. Mr. Culver explained how the Courts of Wayne County are taking care of these cases. Those interested are referred to a long explanation of a recent ruling of the Supreme Court of Michigan which appeared in the Detroit News on Sunday December 15, 1940.

Mr. George L. Addis called our attention to a book recently published by one of our members Mr. Raymond E. Addis of Holly, Michigan. It is a small volume entitled "Re-Introducing Our Signers". It contains a brief biography of each of the 56 signers of the Declaration of Independence together with a portrait and a facsimile of his signature. It contains also a copy of the Declaration with some information about it. Mr. Addis is President of the Michigan Society Sons of the American Revolution.

We only recently learned of the death in Saginaw, Michigan of Mrs. Geo. M. Thompson, mother of Mr. Haliam Spencer Whitney of Cleveland, Ohio. On page 35 there will be found a record of her marriage to John Whitney of Waterbury.

Mrs. Harrie Cole Bowen of Adrian, Michigan has been ill for sometime. Notwithstanding her illness, she copied for the Society the records of four of its' family cemeteries in Seneca County, N. Y. which she had found in Nov. And she is to be considered a good member.

Mrs. W. H. Martens of Detroit has recently contributed some fine records of cemeteries in Berrien, Hillsdale and Van Buren County, Michigan and in Onondaga County, New York. We hope to publish all of these records in time.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Pomeroy Rothwell have gone to California and are living just outside of Los Angeles. They like it very much and hope to become permanent residents. Mr. Rothwell writes that he has had several talks with our ex-President, Mr. Harold E. Moyer.

Mrs. Blanche Benton Heller has returned to California, after spending several years in Detroit.

Mrs. Helen Reese Kellogg is leaving soon for Miami, Florida. She will not return till May. She expects to visit Cuba, Bermuda and Mexico. She says she will be on the lookout for any thing of interest to the Society and will be glad to help any member if she can while she is in the South.

May we repeat a thought from the last News Letter of the Detroit Council on Local History? It is worth thinking about. "The MAUMEE VALLEY historical convention this last fall set on foot a movement to commemorate General Anthony Wayne's victorious campaign against the Indians and the surrender to the Americans in 1794 of Detroit....Detroit should have a lasting monument such as a memorial building to house the Detroit Historical Society's museum, the Burton Historical Collection, and provide a place for the meetings of historical societies". We should like to see this accomplished some day soon.

RESEARCH ON A VIRGINIA DISSENTERS' PETITION.
(Contributed by Eleanor Gerard Russell.)

In the "Virginia Magazine of History", Volume 18, pages 265-267, there was published a Dissenters' Petition, bearing the names of 127 Virginians and without a single clue as to date or Parish or County of origin. I was interested because of the name of ELIAS GEPARD among the Petitioners. I went to Richmond and made a personal search for the original petition among the Archives of the Virginia State Library. It was not there on September 6, 1940.

Further research has convinced me that this petition was from BERKELEY COUNTY, VIRGINIA. Berkeley County was taken from Frederick County, Virginia in 1772. Since some hundred names appear on this petition, I am presenting the results of my research for the benefit of others who may be interested.

My great-great-grandfather, ELIAS GEPARD, signed this petition, and he was from Shepherdstown, Frederick County, Virginia. In 1764 he was one of thirteen volunteers who joined Colonel Bouquet when he forced a passage to the relief of Fort Pitt. He died in "Gerard's Station", Columbia Anderson Township in the "Territory Northwest of the River Ohio", December 31, 1791. (Proof Copy of Letters of Administration to his son, John Gerard, in the Archives of the Virginia State Library, September 6, 1940.)

In addition to this proof, I found the names of many of the Petitioners on legal documents of BERKELEY COUNTY, VIRGINIA, namely:

- (1) WILLIAM GERARD, witnessed the will of Major General Charles Lee of Berkeley County in 1782. (Proof Tylers Magazine, Volume 3.)
- (2) WILLIAM GERARD, deceased. An inventory, Recorded October 16, 1782. (Proof, Berkeley County, Virginia Will Book 1.)
- (3) WILLIAM GERARD, JAMES BUCKLES, JAMES WILSON, mentioned in the will of the Reverend John Gerard dated August 19, 1781, and of record in Berkeley County, Martinsburg, West Virginia in 1940. (See The Detroit Society for Genealogical Research Magazine for October, 1940 for abstract of the Will of the Reverend John Gerard.)
- (4) GILBERT M. KOWN, ROBERT ALLEN, Trustees. "An act to establish a town on the lands of David Gerard in the County of Berkeley." (Proof, Henings' Statutes at Large, Virginia, Volume 12.)

Further proof: GILBERT McCOUN, ALEXANDER McLAUGHLIN (Note this uncommon name), DUNCAN CAMPBELL, HUGH LYLE, ROBERT STEWART, WILLIAM GRAY, JOHN MOOR and others also signed the Dissenters' Petition of Tuscarora Congregation, Berkeley County, Virginia in 1776, as printed in Virginia Magazine of History, Volume 18, pages 260-261. Tuscarora was one of the earliest Presbyterian churches in Frederick County, Virginia. It first appears in Ecclesiastical records in 1760.

I next wrote to the Virginia State Library and asked the Library Archivist to compare the names on this Dissenters' Petition with the names on the Berkeley County Tax Lists, 1782-1786 in the Archives of the Library, which I had examined when in Richmond. I received the following reply. Copy of letter---

Mrs. Eleanor Gerard Russell
Care of Mr. Edward Stuart Piggins

Dear Madam,

We are still unable to locate the original Dissenters' petition as printed in the Virginia Magazine of History, Volume 18, pages 265-267. A comparison of the names on this petition with the names on the Berkeley

County tax lists shows that some of the names are duplicated in both instances. Without a minute comparison of the two lists of names, we would be unable to determine if the petition came from Berkeley County or not. Such conclusions are always dangerous to draw unless more facts in the case can be obtained. In any case, we hesitate to draw conclusions on these matters and prefer to have researchers reach their own conclusions on the basis of the evidence contained in our documents.

Very truly Yours
William J. Van Schreeven
Head Archivist.

The one hundred and twenty-seven names on this petition follow. Those in capitals are the names found also on the various documents of Berkeley County, Virginia referred to above.

I continued my search for conclusive proof that this Dissenter's Petition came from BERKELEY COUNTY VIRGINIA and found this proof in "HISTORIC SHEPHERDS TOWN" by Danske Dandridge published in 1910. According to Mr. Dandridge GILBERT MCEWIN DUNCAN CAMPBELL HUGH LYLE JAMES CAMPBELL WILLIAM SEAMON EDWARD LUCAS ROBERT ALLEN were of Shepherdstown Frederick County Virginia in 1763. Many of these settlers came from Washington County Maryland.

In this priceless volume Mr. Dandridge has published the BERKELEY COUNTY Tax Rolls for 1774 - 1775 - 1776 - 1777 - 1778 - 1779 - 1780 and 1781. A "minute comparison" of the names on these tax lists with those on the Dissenter's petition shows that many of the names are duplicated, namely GILBERT MCEWIN DUNCAN CAMPBELL HUGH LYLE JAMES CAMPBELL WILLIAM SEAMON EDWARD LUCAS ROBERT ALLEN GEORGE JENKINS JOHN HAYS JOHN MILLER JOHN MOORE ABSALOM CHENOWETH JAMES BUCKLES ROBERT STEWART ROBERT LYLE WILLIAM MORGAN NATHANIEL MORRISON ISAAC HEATON GEORGE CUNNINGHAM JACOB RUSH and many others. Thus I feel that I have proved the point of my research.

I should be added that Mr. Dandridge has included in "Historic Shepherdstown" a long list of Revolutionary soldiers of Berkeley County, Virginia.

AN EETHERIDGE FAMILY BIBLE RECORD.
Contributed by Amelia Frink Redfield.

Mrs. Redfield says in her letter "A young man in Coldwater Michigan who bought old books found an old Family Bible and presented it to me. I had such an unusually full record of the family of Etheridge though it might be worth preserving so I have copied these pages for you. The title page of Bible was gone so I do not know when or where it was published, many of the pages are much worn and yellow."

SAMUEL TOMPKINS AND MARTHA ALPHENA (TODD) SCHUREMAN AND THEIR DESCENDANTS
By Frances Ida Schureman Judd

Children of Henry and Priscilla (Chauncey) Sandys

- I. Edwin Sandys, his will mentions a brother then living in the Bermudas, a nephew, John living in New England, and another nephew Sir William Wake whom he appointed as executor of his will.
- II. Robert Sandys
- III. Chauncey Sandys
- IV. Bridget Sandys, m. - Wake. They were the parents of Sir William Wake, BZ Cecilia (Williford) Sandys, widow of AZ Archbishop Edwin Sandys, mentioned her granddaughter Bridge (Sandys) Wake in her will.

Children of BZ Henry and Elizabeth (Goffe) Sandys

- V. Henry Sandys, in 1640 admitted freeman of Boston, Mass.
- AZ1 VI. James Sandys (Sandys, b. 1622 in Reading Co. Berkshire, Eng., d. at Block Island Rhode Island Mar. 13 1695. (Of whom later)

Elizabeth (Goffe) Sandys second wife of BZ the Rev. Henry Sandys and mother of Henry and James Sandys, was a dau. of Thomas Goffe of London, Deputy Governor of the Massachusetts Bay Company. The name Goffe, Goff, is from the Welsh word Gof a sm. n. The name possesses significance relative to the early settlement of New England. In his Journal, the Colonial Governor, John Winthrop, wrote, "On Oct. 20, 1629 at a court held at the house of Thomas Goffe" (on East Cheap, London) "Winthrop was elected Governor, Humphrey, Deputy Governor, and eighteen others assistants. Humphrey's departure from England being delayed Thomas Dudley became Deputy Governor in his place." However, "Thomas Goff, a weal hy merchant of London, Eng." was identified with the movement to settle the Massachusetts Bay Colony earlier than 1629 for on Mar. 23 1628 Matthew Cradock was chosen first governor and Thomas Goff the first deputy governor of the Massachusetts Bay Company. In the group were John Endecott and Sir Richard Saltonstall, and the initiative of this company resulted in the famous "Winthrop Fleet", which arrived at Salem, Mass., June 12, 1630, and soon after settled Boston. Although Thomas Goff did not emigrate to the new world his brother Edward Goffe came in 1638, bringing with him his great nephews Henry and James Sandys (or Sands as it is spelled in America). After the death of their father the Rev. Henry Sands, the boys were brought up by their mother Elizabeth (Goffe) Sandys who lived at Graces, Co. Essex, Eng. She may have accompanied them to America. March 22 1639 her brother Samuel Goffe, petitioned the General Court of Massachusetts that land might be assigned to himself and his father, Thomas Gough of London Merchant, Edward Goffe, with whom Henry and James Sands came, was of Cambridge Mass. and a proprietor of Watertown Mass.

There were others of the name of Goffe who early came to the new world, notably William Goffe b. ca. 1605 who d. at Hadley, Mass. in 1679. He was an English Parliamentary "Commander" and one of the judges of Charles I, when he was tried for treason and executed. William Goffe lived in concealment in New England after 1660. (The writer has made no attempt to connect these other Goffes with the family of Thomas of London, but it is likely they belonged to the same family.)

AZ1 James Sands (Capt.) b. 1622 Reading, Co. Berkshire, Eng., d. Mar. 13 1695 at Block Island Rhode Is. He was sixteen years old when he came to America

In 1638 ten years after the organization of the Massachusetts Bay Company in the home of his grandfather Thomas Goffe. In 1642 James Sands followed Anne Hutchinson in her exile on the banks of the Hudson River, N. Y., was engaged in building a house for her at Eastchester, N. Y. where she had gone after the death of her husband William Hutchinson. The Rev. Samuel Niles, a grand-son of Capt. James Sands in a narrative tells of his house-building experience. Mrs. Hutchinson who came into this country under a religious character probably not very long after the church at Boston was settled, went further westward to a place called Eastchester now in the eastern part of the province of New York. In order to pursue her purpose she agreed with the aforementioned Capt. Sands then a young man to build her a house and he took partner with him in the business. When they had near spent their provisions he sent his partner for meat which was delivered at a considerable distance. While his partner was gone there came a company of Indians to the frame where he was at work and made great show and sat down. After some time they gathered up his tools put his irons on his shoulder and his other tools in his hands and made signs to him to go away. But he seemed to take no notice of them but continued in his work. A length one of them said "Yehah Mumune Ke ok", the English of which is "Come, let us go and they all went away to the waterside for clams or oysters. After some time they came back and found him still at work as before. They again gathered up his tools put them into his hands as before they had done with the like signs moving him to go away. He still seemed to take no notice of them, but kept on in his business and when they had stayed some time they said as before "Yehah Mumune Ke ok". Accordingly they all went away and left him there at his work a remarkable instance of the restraining power of God on the hearts of these furious and merciless infidels who otherwise would doubtless in their rage have split his brains with his own axe. But God had further business for him to do in this world in conducting the affairs of Block Island." Mrs. Hutchinson engaged others to complete her house and in 1643 she and her household were murdered by the Indians.

AZ<sup>2</sup> James Sands was one of the early settlers of Portsmouth R. I. where he received grants of land, Oct. 5 1643 and Aug. 29 1644. The Town Records in an item of Nov. 13 1654 state that "A a Towne meeting of the Inhabitants of Portsmouth Jeames Sands and George Parker are chosen by the town to go along with the layers out when they lay out the aforesayd hie way and land." In 1656 he was a juror. Apr. 16 1657 "Jeames Sands at a Towne meeting was chosen a Commissioner for the town to meet with the Commissioners of the rest of the townes of the Collonie they were to meet July 4 next at Warwicke", and on June 8 he was "chosen jurymen for the next genreall Court of Tryals at Warwicke." In 1660 "At a metings of free Inhabitants of portsmouth" he was again chosen "Commissioner for ye next Court at Worwick." During those years there are many references to James Sands as parties in Portsmouth - purchases and sales of property.

About 1648 he married CZ<sup>2</sup> Sarah Walker a daughter of John and Katherine (Hutchinson) Walker original proprietors of Portsmouth R. I. and five of their children were born here. It is possible although not reasonable that they lived for a time at Taunton Mass. as it was from here that they sail with the fifteen men and probably their families to take possession of Block Island their recent purchase which was destined to be one the home of some of their descendants down to the present time (1940). James Sands shared in the original division of the island although it does not appear that he was among those who met at the home of JZ<sup>2</sup> Dr. John Alcock at Roxbury on Aug. 17 1660 when the Island was purchased. The little company took possession in 1661.

On Block Island James Sands erected a large stone house on Block Island, a structure widely known as "the garrison house" when by the Indians was used as a refuge from pirates and from Indians during King Phillip's War. When for the third time the French captured the island the family retreated themselves in the woods. In 1663 James was constable of Block Is., Mass. 1664 the General Assembly of Rhode Island made James Sands Commissioner of the Peace of Block Island. May 1664, Mr. Sands with Mr. Joseph Kent presented the Assembly to admit as freemen a number of the Islanders among them Eze Simon Ray and Zl Rotert Guthrie whose daughters became the wives of A2d John Sands and A2d John Sands. James Sands was the first representative to the General Court of Rhode Island in 166 and later in 168, 1680 and 1690 assistant Warden in 166, Captain of Militia in King Phillip's War, commanding the New Shoreham Co. It was said of Mr. Sands that he was "a man of unequal endowments of mind, purpose and purity of character, brave, humane, an enterprising citizen and deserved Christian" Eminently fitted to be a leader of the community in his time of trial. He devoted his house for the worship of God where it was attended every Lord's Day or Sabbath and he did much to establish the Baptist Church on the Island. Roger Williams was his intimate friend. He died and was buried in the potter's field a yard off Block Island. A large round stone and small marks his grave with his inscription.

Here lies
Buried the Body of Mr. James Sands
Senior aged 53
years departed
this life March
the 13 1690

In a letter from Block Island written July 21, 1746, Capt. Simon Ray, Sands' great grandson, Park, New Jersey, to his wife, Mrs. Anna D. He said of the Island Cemetery a few days ago and found he had the following plate on James Sands' tomb. He inscribed on the stone and placed it on the ground, took it home, pieced it together, and the inscription was as follows: "A man of diligence in his business, a good husband, a kind master, a good father, a true friend as were also many of the other stones. In the last will of A2d James Sands he made his wife Zd Sarah Walker, Sands executrix of his will. The inventory of his estate follows:

"About 400 acres of land
56 head of cattle small and great
Three horses mare colt one horse
Thirty swine old and young
About 300 sheep
A negro woman - house and barn and mill"

Liverance in his "History of Block Island" wrote of Mrs. Sarah Sands "This lady had virtues and culture which entitle her to more than passing notice." In addition to her home duties she was the doctor of the Island "being skilled in surgery and medicine". Wherever there was illness Sarah (Walker) Sands was found, tenderly caring for the sick. Her grandson the Rev. Samuel Niles wrote of her "H.s" (Capt. James Sands' wife) "was a gentle woman of remarkable sobriety and piety, given also to hospitality. She was the only midwife and doctor on the Island, or rather a doctor, all her days, with very little and with some and mostly no reward at all." The Rev. Niles mentioned several specific cases in which Sarah Sands demonstrated her great skill as a surgeon. Her husband made her the sole executrix of his estate. In Mar. 1695, James Sands died and on Mar. 9, 1699, his wife had recorded a legal document emancipating her slaves. A copy follows

"Know all men by these presents that I, Sarah Sands, of Block Island alias New Shoreham in the Colony of Rhode Island Providence Plantations in New England Wife to Mr. James Sands of Block Island and made sole executrix by my said husband James Sands a his death and having three negro children born under my roof and in my said body being left to my disposing by my above said husband

"Know ye herefore that I the above Sarah Sands do hereby and doth clearly give and testify of them as followeth that is to say

"First I give to my granddaughter, Sarah Sands daughter to my son Edward Sands one of the Negro girls named Hannah. The other Negro girl I give and bequeath unto my granddaughter, Catherine Niles daughter of my son in law Nathaniel Niles of Point Judith in the Colony above said the two negro girls I freely and voluntarily give to my two grandchildren above named until the said Negroes come to the age of twenty years and then I do by these presents declare that they shall be free from my service and be a heir own disposal. The Negro girl given to my granddaughter Catherine Niles is named Sarah. Sarah Sands

In 1/03 a preamble was added to the above, which is a revelation of Sarah Sands character. Much of her eventful life had been spent on the island the inhabitants of which she had found upon her arrival to be in a barbarous state. She had, with her devoted companion labored to improve them both socially and religiously. Her will reads as follows

"In the name of God Amen I Sarah Sands of Block Island alias New Shoreham in the colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations in New England being aged and weak in body, but of sound and perfect memory Praise be given to Almighty God for the same - and knowing the uncertainty of this life on earth, and being desirous to see that things in order be done before my death, Do make this my last will and Testament in manner and form following

More information about this Erskine family is desired.

ADDITIONS AND CORRECTIONS TO GENEALOGICAL WORKS.

"CHARLES CHRISTOPHER TROWBRIDGE" by Beulah Puffer Kresge (an addition to the Trowbridge Genealogy) DETROIT SOCIETY FOR GENEALOGICAL RESEARCH MAGAZINE April 1939 p. 129 add to "17. Mary Trowbridge '91 Wilkins" (Countess Zeppelin) this notice of death taken from the Detroit (Michigan) News of Saturday Dec. 7 1940 "Through the war-disrupted communications from Europe, word has been received here of the death Nov. 3 of Countess Carl von Zeppelin. The former Mary Trowbridge Wilkins descendant of one of Michigan's most illustrious families. A letter sent from the Countess' home at Baden Baden, Germany, at the time of the death reached the home of her brother Ross Wilkins Friday. After clearing German censorship the letter came to Detroit via clipper from Lisbon. Since before the days of the World War the Countess and her husband, cousin of the late Ferdinand Zeppelin inventor and designer of the dirigible, have lived quietly at their home in Baden-Baden. ---- Word of the death of the Countess was sent by Count von Zeppelin. Burial, he said was in Baden-Baden."

Miss Helen H. Ellis of the Burton Library Staff calls our attention to an item of interest and importance to all users of the card catalogues. That is that The American Genealogical Foundation Index is changing over all their index cards from surnames only to given names. Thus far they have done the following names: Adams, Allen, Brown, Clark, Davis, Johnson, Jones, Miller, Smith, Taylor and Williams. To all of us who have faced the task of going through all the volumes indexed under the name of "Smith", for example with the faint chance of finding in one of them a "Mary Smith", this comes as welcome news. Any member of the Burton staff will be glad to explain how the new cards work. If you should find one in your research. The American Genealogical Foundation Index, it may be explained, card indexes genealogical works both indexed and un-indexed, and supplies the cards to subscriber libraries.

REPLIES

677-D-8, HATHAWAY SHEPARD Proof of marriage of John Hathaway(1629-1705 and Martha Shepard at Braintree, Mass., 1649 is asked for.

M. A. T. C. in the Boston Evening Transcript for April 11, 1936, says that the reported lineage of this Martha long current among Hathaway descendants seems to lack any foundation in recorded facts. Various references have been given as supporting it such as "The Genealogy of Henry Adams of Braintree, Mass.", "New England Historic and Genealogical Register", "Braintree Town Records", etc.

John (2) Hathaway had a wife named Martha. And a certain William Shepard of Taunton referred to John as "my loving brother". (March 1664 Plymouth Colony Records, Archives Book p. 38.) The will of John Shepard, who seems without question to have been the father of William and who was of Towcester County Northampton, Eng., was dated July 16, 1643 and contains no reference to any Martha. (N. Y. Gen. and Biog. Record, Vol. 42 p. 94.)

I have been told by Mary P. Herbert, Assone Mass. (historian of the Hathaway family association) that the records of New Haven Conn. have an account of a court held there February 5, 1766, in which there is reference to "Edward Preston attorney on behalf of John Hathaway of Taunton as administrator of the estate of brother-in-law William Shepard deceased."

Nobody knows why William Shepard called John Hathaway brother. It could have been a church relationship. It may be that John Hathaway's wife was a sister of William Shepard's wife. Perhaps William Shepard's wife was an unknown sister of John Hathaway. Pattee's "History of Old Braintree and Quincy" says that Nicholas Hathaway had nine heads in his family. Who these were is not known, but some may have been daughters whose names are lost to us.

Booklet No. 6 of the Collections of the Old Colony Historical Society of Taunton, Mass., published 1899, contains an article on the early Hathaways which is accepted as authoritative. The author, Miss Mary E. N. Hathaway, does not mention the Shepard legend in connection with Martha although she must have been familiar with it.

Ans. by Dr. Ray G. Hilliard, Chicago.

658-B-19, THOMPKINS, Mrs. Judd has no information re Revolutionary War record of Samuel Thompkins and Jabez Thompkins as requested. She is interested only in Samuel Tompkins Schureman. Ans. by J. C.

A HEIMSTREET FAMILY BIBLE RECORD.

Contributed by Helen Reese Kellogg.

This record was copied from a Bible printed in Amsterdam, Holland in 1694, by Daniel van den Dalem Boecklerkooper. It was owned by Jacob Heimstreet, one of three brothers who sailed from Amsterdam, Holland in 1705, and located in Kinderhook Barony of Albany on the Hudson River, N. Y.

Because of the Heimstreet family marrying into the REESE family, the Bible was handed down to me Mrs. Henry Bates Kellogg. E. B. Heimstreet, late of Lake Mills Wis., was the last Heimstreet to own the Bible. HRK
